A crime-fighting initiative

Brought to you by Ealing BID working with Ealing Council, facilitated by M-R-S Communications Ltd. Our collaborative approach enables us to bring together Ealing BID members, the local authority CCTV control room and the Police to protect your business, staff and customers.

Practical solutions for a Safer Ealing

M-R-S Communications are an established leader in radio communication, holding contracts with some of the busiest shopping destinations in the UK. As our appointed contractors, they provide 2 way radio systems so that BID members can share up to date, live information through the latest radio technology contained within a user-friendly handset.

Stoynet & Nitenet enables all users to keep in touch, providing 360° communication at the touch of a button. Handsets are linked in to the town centre CCTV control room, Police and all other radio users so that up to date, real time information can be shared as and when it happens.

Security.

As membership to the scheme increases, the system's aim is to reduce crime, the fear of crime and ultimately improve profitability through a decrease in theft and damage. This also has a significant effect in reducing disorder and anti-social behaviour within the nighttime economy.

The above package can be hired for just £9.00 + VAT per week including full maintenance and a replacement unit in the unlikely event of a breakdown.
